GIVING CHILDREN THE CHANCE TO CHOOSE

EARLY CHILDHOOD DEVELOPMENT

KEY ACHIEVEMENTS 2016 – 2017

Giving Children the Chance to Choose

Children in Crossfire was founded in 1996 by Richard Moore. In the city of Derry 1972, aged 10, Richard Moore was blinded by a rubber bullet fired at point blank range into his face.

Amazingly from childhood to the present day, he has accepted his sight loss without any feelings of resentment. "I learned to see life in a different way. I may have lost my sight, but I have vision", is how he describes his remarkable acceptance of what, for most, would be a debilitating trauma. Richard set up Children in Crossfire with the intention of responding to the rights and needs of young children caught in the crossfire of global poverty and injustice. The organisation's 'spirit of compassion' is one of its key strengths as it works in partnership with others to find and implement the best possible solutions to poverty.

Through Early Childhood Development (ECD) Programmes, Children in Crossfire works in partnership with organisations in Tanzania and Ethiopia to address the developmental needs of young children whose lives are caught up in the injustice of poverty. We believe that meeting the developmental needs of young children will build a solid foundation from which they can grow and thrive into healthy and happy individuals.

Children in Crossfire works in Ireland and the UK to deliver Development Education and Public Engagement Programmes. We see these as integral elements of our overall work, in order for people to better understand the structural causes of poverty, global interdependence, and the impact that personal choices and actions have upon people across the world. In particular, our Development Education: Educating the Heart programme has a focus on working with teachers and schools to help young people gain the skills and values needed to become active global citizen and compassionate change-makers.
